ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

We owe much to our many friends who have contributed so generously of their means, their talent, and their time to make this, our 1942 edition of the Huntingtonian, a success.

To our parents, our Principal and our advisors, to the art editors, our patrons, and our advertisers, we, the members of the Senior Class, express our sincere thanks and appreciation. We know that without your help our book would not have been possible.

We, the Class of 1942, have attempted through the pages of this book to depict accurately the events that have transpired during our four years at Huntington High School. It is our hope that this edition will be a means of enabling you to understand our high school and the vital role it has played in shaping our lives.

FOREWORD

As a manifestation of our appreciation for the many sacrifices which the men in our armed forces, especially those from our Faculty, are making so that those liberties which we, Americans, hold so dear, shall not perish from this earth, we, the members of the Class of 1942, sincerely dedicate this volume of "The Hunting-tonian," to

HUNTINGTONIAN STAFF

The work of editing the yearbook has been one of the most pleasant and profitable experiences of our high school days. The task has not been easy because the standards set by former staffs were high, but we have earnestly endeavored to publish a book that is truly representative of Huntington High School.

THE PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

TO THE CLASS OF 1942:

YOU ARE leaving high school in what is perhaps the most critical time in the history of mankind. The whole world is aflame with the madness of war, and in this titanic conflict our country is playing a leading role. We are in a struggle to the death to determine whether in the years to come the peoples of the earth—men and women of all races, kindreds, and tongues—are to be slave or free. In this conflict, there can be no middle ground. In the world of tomorrow, when the issue has been decided by the gauge of battle, Nazism will rule or democracy will be triumphant. Should the Nazis win, the individual human being will be debased. If democracy prevails, there is still a chance for all men to be "free and equal."

Your duty at Huntington high school graduates is clear. For the sake of your country, your race, and the world, you must use all that you have learned at Huntington and all the knowledge and skill you will acquire elsewhere for the promotion of our country's effort to win this war.

You have learned the meaning of democracy as citizens of our high school community. You have had freedom to help make decisions for the group of which you have been a part. You have played a vital role in the solution of the problems which confronted us in our associations as teachers and as pupils. You detest autocracy and class distinctions. You love freedom, and recognize the difference between liberty and license. You are already conditioned to help make democracy a reality for all the people of this nation and for all the nations of the world.

You have often heard it said that this war is a "total war." This means that every one of us must play a part in this struggle. All of you will take your respective places in this total-war scheme. Some will serve in industry, some in the armed forces, some in the hospitals, and some in the home. Wherever you may be called upon to "do your bit," do it to the best of your ability. And when the war for democracy is won—as it surely must be—you will have the supreme satisfaction of knowing that you have made a contribution, small though it may be, to the sum total of the happiness of mankind, and that the years you have spent in preparation for this day have not been in vain.

Sincerely yours,

L. F. Palmer

CLASS HISTORY

IN SEPTEMBER 1938, about one hundred and fifty bright-eyed youngsters, hearts bursting with pride, entered the portals of Huntington High School. We came with fresh hopes and new joys, anxious and eager to enjoy the experiences in a higher institution of learning.

We had heard much of this land of opportunity, of freedom and of camaraderie, so was it any wonder that we were anxious to enter it!

However, it was not long ere we learned that all was not as it had been pictured. Freshmen were not privileged to engage in Extra-Curricular Activities. Neither were we accorded a great deal of this much talked of Freedom. Freedom did exist here, but it carried with it responsibility and we were given Freedom in proportion as we demonstrated our ability to use it wisely. With few outside distractions and ample teacher guidance, we applied ourselves to our studies with zest and earnestness, setting a standard in scholarship which was to be envied.

All too quickly the first year passed and we were the Sophisticated Sophomores—those who knew all the answers. How happy we were to be able to address the newcomers as “Froshies”—“Greenies” and “Beanies” and to make them feel as insignificant and insecure as we had been made to feel.

During this year many of our classmates explored the fields of Sports and Dramatics and joined the Band, Choir, Orchestra, and other organizations.

But alas! that year, too, passed. Vacation time fairly whirled by and we were back in school in the third year. We were Juniors. Our school life was half over so we vowed to make the most of the remainder. Our first act was to elect the following officers: James Walker, President; Lutrelle Parker, Vice President; Ruth Fultz, Recording Secretary; Elsie Terry, Financial Secretary; and Sidney Ricks, Treasurer. We continued to participate in the school activities in which we had formerly engaged and many of us assumed responsible student offices.

Because we had upheld a high standard of scholarship, eleven of our number: Queen Seaborn, Bessie Ruth Ford, Elsie Terry, Ruth Fultz, Edythe Wallace, Hattie Thomas, Shirley Wright, James Walker, Theodore Horne, Charles Tucker, and Thomas Baylor were inducted at an impressive ceremony into the Huntington Chapter of the National Honor Society.

To us, the highlight of this year was that night on which we entertained the seniors at a formal dance at Aberdeen Gardens. Since Freshman days, we had looked forward to our Prom so we worked fervently to make it a most enjoyable affair.

Thus our Junior year ended and we were now Dignified Seniors. Early we determined to put aside all frivolities and fulfill our hopes and aspirations and those of our parents.

Many of the events of this year are so indelibly imprinted upon our minds that not even time itself will be able to efface them. First, grim war with its stark realities touched our shores causing numerous changes and adjustments to be made in our school and home life.

Four of our faculty members: Messrs. Neal Brown, Elmo Davis, Fred Lewis, and Fred Swann along with many of our brothers and friends, were called to the armed forces that they might help restore a new order which would guarantee every man justice and the right to a peaceful life. Coming to fill these vacancies were Misses Carolyn Parker, Jessie Ferguson, Louise Lane and Marie Ferguson. Other new staff members were Miss Mary E. Moore, Messrs. B. F. Smith, Boyd Jones, and Conrad Raiford.

The Huntingtonian

At our first class meeting we decided to retain the same officers who had served us so faithfully the preceding school term. We voted to bend all our efforts toward raising finance for a yearbook. Naomi Coleman was selected to head the Huntingtonian Staff and Oswald Gholson, Charles Tucker, and Arthur Hobson were named as Advertising Managers. They, with the other staff members, worked conscientiously and gave us one of the largest and best edited annuals that we have ever had.

Athletics found us not lacking. Clarence Johnson, James Walker, Eldridge Byrd, Leroy Banks, James East, and William Smith distinguished themselves on the hardwood and gridiron.

In Dramatics, we were well represented by Elsie Terry, Albert Cornick, John Cottrell, Homer Wright, Hattie Thomas, and Edythe Wallace. We shall long remember the three one-act plays sponsored by the Senior Class and the inimitable performances by the cast.

Elsie Terry, editor-in-chief of the Huntington Mirror, aided by other aspiring journalists succeeded in editing an interesting paper.

This year is to be remembered, too, by the visit of six gentlemen representing the Southern Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges who came to evaluate our school. They rated us very high and especially commended the Pupil Activity Program, the Music Department, and the Library.

Nor can we easily forget those beautiful blue and gold Band uniforms purchased by funds raised by the Parent-Teacher Association.

Last, but by no means least, is that long-to-be-called day when the government informed the school officials that the request for appropriations of money to construct an annex had been approved. The addition is to include seven classrooms, three shops and a Home Economics apartment.

And now the time approaches for us to leave, but as we go forward adventuring along unknown paths, seeking to make real our dreams, and finding the true meaning of Life, we shall carry with us the same true spirit and the high ideals that guided us while students at Huntington High School.

EXTRACTS FROM THE DIARY OF H. T.

1962-1964

June 1—On board the S. S. Marguerita. Going home for a long earned vacation. It has been twenty years since I left the bustling Shipbuilding City.

June 2—Met Sidney Ricks on the deck today. He says he and his band, "The Swingrettes," are returning from a six months' tour of Europe. Among the band members were Audell Patterson, Theodore Horne, Velma Hill, John Ingram, Theodore Parker, Bernice Bouldin, and the vocalist, Catherine Williams.

June 3—Landed at three o'clock and the first person I saw was my old chum, Elsie Terry Harmon; she was covering the waterfront for the Amsterdam News. I remember now, Elsie got her first training as cub reporter on the Huntington High School Mirror.

June 4—At the invitation of friends, I visited the "High Hat" which is owned and operated by none other than Gilbert Cobb, Albert Cornick, and Cephas Boykins. Good floor show, but you can imagine my surprise when William Smith announced that the next two numbers would be "La Conga" featuring Hannah Bell, Oswald Gholson, and Thomasena Williams, and "Le Rhumba" by Viola Randall and Reginald Ingram. Well! Well! Viola and Reggie are still getting a laugh out of life and giving everyone else one.

June 5—Left Grand Central at five and arrived in Newport News at eight. It was so dark that I couldn't note the changes.

June 7—Enjoyed the services at the new Baptist Church on the Corner of Jefferson Avenue and Twenty-eighth Street. I was informed that Clarence Jones had made a fortune selling pins and wanted to remember his home town, so he built this edifice and named it "Jones' Tabernacle." Will wonders never cease? The Reverend Henry Carr spoke on "This Sinful World," and a more eloquent sermon I have never heard. In the choir directed by Francine Miles Pegram I recognized Shirley Wright Skinner, Lucille Hargraves, Pocahontas Fauntleroy Jones, Mildred Lipford Ricks, Norvella Thorpe, and Naomi Coleman. The church fairly rang with its powerful rendition of "Listen To The Lambs." I felt happy to see that they were still carrying on the good work that Mr. Frazer had so nobly begun.

After church I met a score of old classmates. First was Charles Tucker who had talked his way to Congress and back. Then Thomas Baylor, James Walker, and James Scott, chief operators at the Dixie, Jefferson, and Moton. How proud Mr. Hines and Mr. Johnson must be, because these three received their first experience by cutting classes to operate the Ampro. Baylor told me that the picture now showing was "Frankenstein's Bride" directed by Hattie Thomas and starring Homer Wright, John Cottrell, Dorothy Wilkins and James Boone.

September 1—I have had a wonderful vacation but I have a feeling that it will soon be over.

September 20—Went to a football game between Phenix and Huntington. I noticed that the Vikings were coached by James East and the "Crabbers" by Francis Floyd. Policing the field were the following teachers: Queen Esther Reid, Viola Hobson, Mary McSwain, Louise Smith, Della Miller, Mildred Jones, Virginia Chatman, and Principal Raymond Davis, Assistant Principal Harry Ford, Co-ordinator of Instruction, Leon Boone, and Patrolman Howard Norfleet. It might be noted that the Faculty of Huntington High has revised the curri-

CLASS WILL

DESPITE THE total blackness of blackouts, the shriek of the screaming sirens, the constant droning of planes, and the rumble of army trucks, we, the members of the senior class, have somehow managed to maintain our equilibrium and in this hectic year of 1942, do of our own free will and choice make this our last will and testament.

To our beloved Principal and the members of the Faculty, we express our thanks and appreciation for the kind guidance and interest they have manifested in us during our four years at Huntington.

To Miss Joyner and Miss Weaver, we bequeath a bouquet of forget-me-nots.

To the Juniors, we leave the many student offices which we have held and our seats in Room 206.

To the "Sophs" and "Freshies," we will a correct understanding of the word "Democracy" and our best wishes for successful high school careers.

Ruth Fultz rejoicing from the bottom of her heart that she will not be forced to part with her one and only treasured possession, Theodore Horne, has not yet informed us of her legacy.

Virginia Washington leaves her fame as the biggest talker in high school to anyone who can rival her.

Catherine Williams, thankful that she has at last passed French IV leaves this piece of advice, "To all students who hope to graduate from Huntington, avoid French."

Theresa Coles and Gladys Askew give their irrepressible giggles to Merline Clarke because they think Merline needs one joy in life.

After having spent five years in Huntington, Gilbert Cobb and John Cottrell are still reluctant to leave, so they have decided to will their love to William Howard.

All the drapes belonging to Audell Patterson, Theodore Parker, and Sidney Ricks are left to Leonard Ballou and Thomas Fallen.

Viola Hobson, Ruth Robinson, and Queen Esther Reid are willing copies of their last essay entitled, "How To Mind Your Own Business And Be Happy" to Violet Boone, Martha Brown, and Inez Turner.

To Lloyd Mines go the quiet ways and the studious habits of Henry Carr and Floyd Francis.

Viola Randall and Reginald Ingram are keeping their one talent, that of clowning.

Shirley Wright leaves her title, Miss Huntington, to the most popular girl in the Junior Class.

Dorthy Wilkins wills her corner seat in the Library to anyone who will promise to entertain as much as she did.

In order that Mr. Ivy will continue to have at least two secretaries, Mary McSwain and Virginia Chatman name as their successors, Pearl Cunningham and Leola Mitchell.

Cephas Boykins, Albert Cornick, Howard Norfleet, and James East bequeath their dashing ways with the opposite sex to Burdie Fowlkes. We hope this generous offer brings success, Burdie.

Bessie Ruth Ford and Rosa Lee Robinson

The Huntingtonian

CLASS WILL

will their sisterly love to Texanna Watford and Beulah Pleasants.

James Walker and Lutrelle Parker are willing to teach the art of filibustering to any of the Juniors who feel that it will be useful, but they especially named William Brown.

The volumes of ten-cent literature which Pocahontas Fauntleroy, Mildred Jones, and Lillian Coleman have collected during their four years at Huntington are bestowed upon Edith Ruffin. We hope you will enjoy them as much as these three did.

Otelia Daniels wills her prowess on the hardwood to the McQueen twins, the up and coming basketball wonders.

Bernice Bouldin and Loretta Crump leave their tear stained handkerchiefs in the trophy case as last remembrances of their stormy careers at Huntington.

To Ellen Crowder goes the baby voice of Edythe Wallace. Take heed, Ellen, and don't be so loud.

Mary Blizzard and William Smith bequeath their tact in working unsuspecting parents to Curtis Ricks.

Although it grieves her sorely to do so, Antionelle Moore has resigned her position as office girl to Katie Watford, so that Katie will not have time to annoy the librarian.

Charles Tucker leaves his great powers of argumentation to Midgett Parker who aspires to become a great orator.

Charles Mack wills his great height and dignified bearing to James Gilchrist, a small but mighty chap.

John Ingram leaves his fondness for Freshmen Girls to anyone who has a love for small children.

Oswald Gholson wills his prominent place as the "king" of the "jitterbugs" to Ralph Sayles.

With a hope that this generous offer will be kindly accepted, James Scott and Arthur Hobson bequeath their gentlemanly ways and manners to Lynwood Riddick.

Robert Fox wills his string of A's and B's in mathematics to John B. Ingram. He thinks John might be able to make good use of them.

Harriet, the last of the Craytons, has decided to take with her her flirtatious habits and enticing smile. She is retaining them for future use.

Elsie Terry wills her great affection for geometry to Kenneth Travis in hopes that he will feel different about this subject in the future.

Queen Esther Seabron, Vivian Bowers, and Gavella Bell, who shocked us terribly one day by actually talking, leave their noiseless ways to Mary Watkins and Cora Sprattley.

Thomas Baylor wills his general knowledge on all subjects to Edward Sterling, the walking bureau of information.

Della Miller bequeaths her notebooks to Nathalie Rowlette leaves her stack of absence blanks marked "Please Admit" and her prize possession, "Bro." White in the care of "Bunny" Jones.

To Lolita Wilkins and Antionette Elam go the friendliness of Naomi Coleman, Louise Smith, and Novella Thorpe. Don't be offended, girls.

To Dorothy Daniels, we give the trilling voice of Francine Miles.

The tottering heels and make up kit of Emma Tucker are left to Lithia Boone.

Hannah Bell, Thomasena Williams, and Barbara Wade will their general dislike for everything to Dorothy Toliver and Leona Clarkson, the champions of Freshmen rights.

Cornella Davis who has at last acquired a new blue pocketbook leaves the worn red one to the school museum.

Because Thelma Watson needs one interest in school other than walking the halls, Florence Holloway and Anna Brown leave to her their loyalty and devotion to the Tri-Hi-Y Club.

Marguerite Ingram bequeaths her stylish coiffure to anyone who has a fondness for curls.

Georgia Walker, Sadie Cornick and Enid Harrell feel that the girls of Huntington are sufficiently neat so they are keeping theirs.

Hoping that it might have a good influence on her, Josephine White, the model of perfect conduct, wills her Citizenship record to Lillian Williams.

Out of the fullness of her heart, Lucille Hargraves gives her place on Tri-Hi-Y Programs to anyone who has the same fondness for public appearances.

Clarence Jones, Harry Ford, and Raymond Davis bequeath their indifference to all matters pertaining to school to Rudolph Pearson.

Florence Elam would like to will her skill in cooking to someone but she is afraid she might need it.

Hattie Thomas wills her dexterity in twirling a baton to the members of the Spinerette Club. Luck to you all.

The brand new band uniforms of Velma Hill and Theodore Horne are left to the members of the Second Band.

Ethel Artis and Leone Boone will their adeptness in cutting class and getting by with it to Joe Raney.

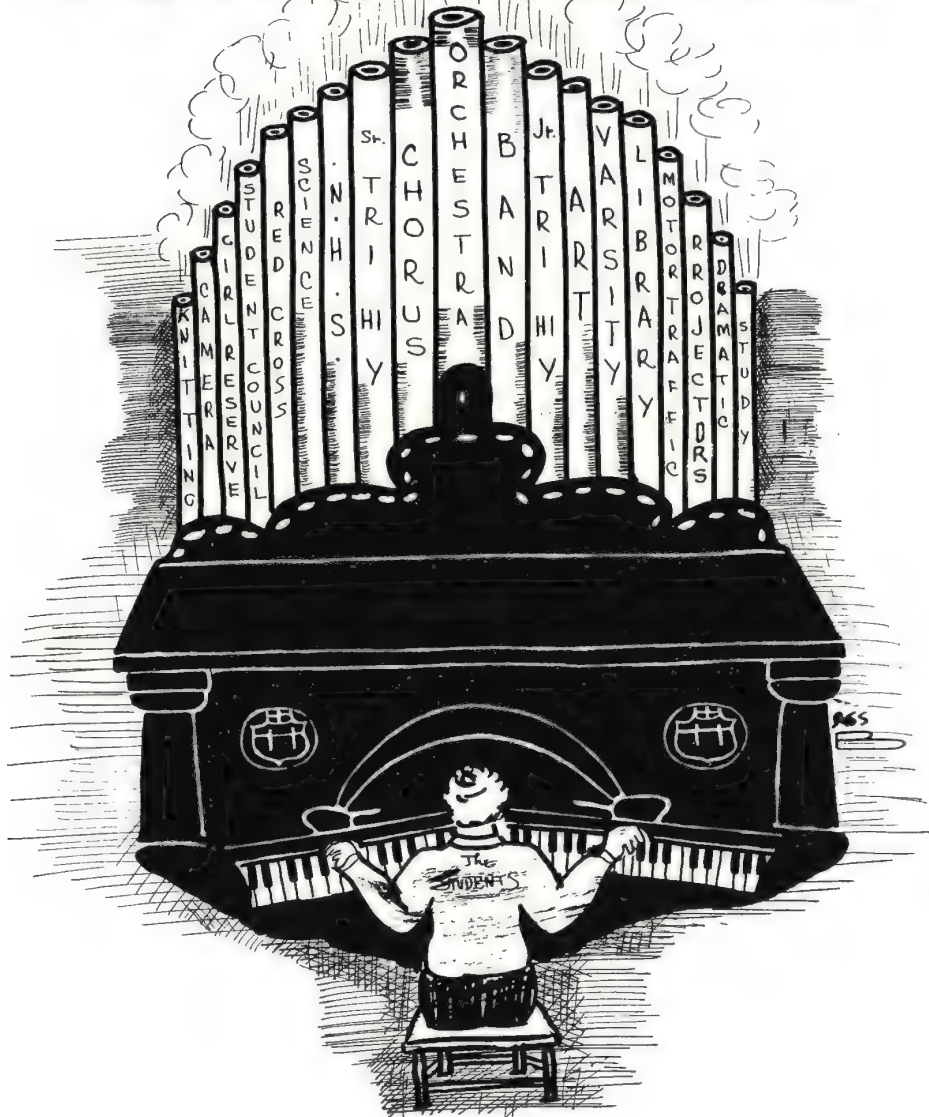

With best wishes for success, Clarine Lepsey wills her slenderizing diet to Bernice Ridick.

Homer Wright leaves his roles in future productions to Charles Hamlin.

James Boone wills his love for the Chemistry Laboratory to Cornelius Gilchrist.

Because Mildred Lipford's chief interest is out of school, she doesn't feel that she has anything else worth leaving.

DEBATING CLUB

There is no other club in high school that serves a better purpose than debating. Why? Because it teaches one how to prepare a debate, collect reliable material, and then present this material in a strong and convincing manner. The club has presented several debates in the assembly.

EXTRACTS FROM THE DIARY OF H. T.

culum taking out all History, French, and English Courses. The heads of the institution enjoy their work very much, because their chief duty is walking the halls.

September 21—In the morning mail came a letter to report to the branch office in Los Angeles. How I hated to go. My visit in Newport News has been a pleasant one and I had hoped to remain longer, but business must take precedent over pleasure.

September 22—In Richmond. At the airport I met Bessie Ruth and Lutrelle Parker. After twenty years of indecision, they had decided to "middle aisle" it and were going west on their honeymoon. I also glimpsed Ruth Fultz Horne and Edythe Wallace. Edythe, having just returned from Reno, was giving Ruth instructions about the proper procedure one uses in establishing residence at Reno. Ruth says life with Horne has been a veritable nightmare.

September 22—Off at last. The pilot is Arthur Hobson and airline hostess is Florence Elam. Yes, indeed, he has Florence with him even on his flights.

September 29—In Hollywood. Passing down Fifth Street, I was attracted by a sign "La Henna Beauty Salon." I entered and was greeted by Nathalie Rowlette, the henna specialist. 'Nat' has at last discovered a permanent dye; Emma Tucker was demonstrating the latest shade of face powder, and "Jimmy Ingram," la styliste, was trying to persuade a customer to try one of her new coiffures. Jimmy's coiffures are guaranteed to make one look twenty years younger.

On my way out of the shop, I ran into two Angels of Mercy, Florence Holloway and Anna Brown. They were surprised to know that they had stopped an old classmate to collect a few pennies for their Day Nursery. They said that their school was rapidly growing and they were collecting money to increase the facilities. Others on the staff were: Enid Harrell, Theresa Coles, Gavella Bell, Ethel Artis, and Mary Blizzard; Nurses: Virginia Washington, Ruth Robinson, Georgia Walker, Barbara Wade, and Antonelle Moore and Doctors Charles Mack, Josephine White and Vivian Bowers.

October 1—Last night I attended the Premiere of a picture which is destined to be even greater than "Gone With The Wind." In the audience were Rosa Lee Robinson, Sadie Cornick, Lillian Coleman and Loretta Crump. They were trying to tell Cornella Davis that opera glasses were unnecessary, that she could see enough without them.

Just before the curtain went up there was a stir in the audience. . . . Turning to see what it was I caught sight of Gladys Askew, Harriet Crayton, and Otelia Daniels sweeping gracefully down the aisle on the arms of their handsome escorts. It seems that Newport News became too small for them so they moved to a larger area.

Note—Here the account stopped. The diary remains unfinished because the writer got married and lived happily ever after.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL TEAM

After a lapse of five years, interest in Girls' Basketball was again revived and a team was organized and coached by Misses Marie Ferguson and Carolyn Parker. Considering the lack of experience of the members of the team, the girls had a successful season. They closed with a total of seven games played. Three were won; one tied; and three lost.

THE VIKINGS—FOOTBALL

Huntington in a normal sequence of events, would have produced a very good team in 1941, but it was the victim of circumstances caused by the loss of several dependable backs and linemen after the opening of the season. Rivals last year found the Vikings not too dangerous with their running attacks, particularly weak in aerial defense, and woefully lacking in reserves in all departments.

Despite the unimpressive season's record, the Vikings showed great striking power and the smoothness of a well coached team in their victories over Booker T. Washington (Suffolk), Armstrong, and St. Emma. The gridsters closed the season with three victories and four defeats.

1942 — THE VIKINGS — 1942

Fourteen wins in nineteen games gave the Vikings their best record under Coach S. E. Howe in his five years at Huntington. The feature of the season was the double defeat handed the State Champion, Maggie Walker.

Speed and experience made the Vikings outstanding in the Eastern Division of the State Conference. The Vikings were clever in handling the ball and accurate in their shots. The team scored a total of 644 points against their opponents 470. Two of the five games lost were decided by overtime periods.

WIT AND HUMOR

Miss Frazier: "What do the initials R.A.F. stand for?"

Lucille: "Air Raid Warden."

Mr. Johnson: (To a class studying the digestive system) "Our body has several juices which aid in the process of digestion. Now, what happens when we pass a bakery and are hungry?"

Whitehead: "We start walking faster."

Teacher: "Did anyone help you with this homework?"

Student: "No, ma'am, my father did it all by himself."

Teacher: "Now, Robert, describe the human spine."

Robert: "Well, the spine is a long bone. Our head sits on one end and we sit on the other."

Miss Ray: "Is there anything that hibernates in the summer?"

Mary: "Yes, Santa Claus."

Miss Newby: "Where would you go for a summer resort, Doris?"

Doris: "I'd stick my head in an icebox."

Mr. Miller: "What kind of livery are we referring to?"

Bernice: "Hog livery."

Repair man: "I'm from the electric company. I understand there's something in the house that won't work."

Little Girl: "That's daddy. He's upstairs."

Teacher: "Who can give me a definition of the word 'Waffle'?"

Bright Pupil: "A waffle is a pancake with a non-skid tread."

Bill: "Why do women have candles on their birthday cakes?"

Phil: "Oh, to make light of their ages."

Mary, a small girl was twirling the buttons of her grandfather's vest while the old gentleman was sleeping.

"Mary," said her mother, "Stop, or you will awaken Grand-dad."

"Oh, no," replied the child, "I'm just getting a new station."

"What is the matter?" asked the mother of a six year old girl when the child came home almost in tears after her first day in school.

"I don't like the teacher," said the little girl.

"Why, you hardly know her. What has she done to you?"

"When I went in she said, 'sit here for the present' and she never brought it."

When Herbert aged four heard his aunt's cat purring loudly, he was disturbed.

"Auntie," he cried, "Come here quick. This cat has gone to sleep and left his engine running."

Teacher: "Why were you absent yesterday?"

Pupil: "I was sick."

Teacher: "I happen to know that you were not sick, because it was reported that you went swimming yesterday."

Pupil: "I was sick—sick of school."

Small Son: "Mother, there's something that hasn't any legs or arms running across the floor."

Mother: "Good heavens! What is it?"

Son: "Water."

Bob: "Did you know Columbus was crooked?"

Elmer: "He wasn't either."

Bob: "Sure, he was. He double crossed the ocean."

Miss Johnson: "Jimmy, give us the definition of 'nothing'."

Jimmy: "Nothing is a balloon with the skin off."

DAILY EVENTS

SEPTEMBER 4—Vacation ended today. "Eds" and "Co-eds" trekked back to school. We had several new teachers.

SEPTEMBER 5—Bad news, no rotating schedules this semester.

SEPTEMBER 8—Looks like we are in for a year of hard work. Books were issued today and imagine it, lessons were assigned.

SEPTEMBER 9—We were in school all day and was it hot?

SEPTEMBER 10—Candidates for the Football team were summoned today. Prospects look good for a winning team.

SEPTEMBER 15—Home rooms organized. Mr. Swann left for camp and Miss Carolyn Parker came to take his place.

SEPTEMBER 26—We played our first football game. Huntington 35; Booker T. of Suffolk 0.

OCTOBER 3—Activity Ticket Drive launched.

OCTOBER 4—Teachers got some of their medicine. They took the National Teachers' Exam. Wonder if it was as hard as some they give us?

OCTOBER 10—Girl Scouts appeared in assembly and asked us to help in their Cookie Sale.

OCTOBER 17—James Walker elected president of the Senior Class.

OCTOBER 23—Plenty of sighs and groans were heard today. Report cards for the first six weeks were issued.

NOVEMBER 3—A holiday. No teacher, no school. The teachers have all gone to the District Teachers' Meeting at Hampton.

NOVEMBER 6—What a Day! The wind was very high and it was cold. Despite this, we bundled up and strolled over to Booker T. to hold assembly. Dr. Popenoe talked on Family Relationships, very interesting.

NOVEMBER 7—The members of the Tri-Hi-Y Clubs and their sponsors left for the State Conference at Lawrenceville.

NOVEMBER 8—Charles Reed was elected President of the State Conference and Violet Boone, assistant secretary.

NOVEMBER 11—Armistice Day. We all paused for a few minutes in silent prayer for peace.

NOVEMBER 13—We celebrated National Book Week. Mr. Smith presented a play, "Bringing Up Nine" in the assembly.

NOVEMBER 19—Thanksgiving Holidays began.

NOVEMBER 20—Turkey Day for all Virginians. The game of the season—Huntington versus Phenix—19-0 and Huntington on the losing end.

DECEMBER 4—Freshmen and Seniors alike had sore arms, Dr. Walker gave them Tuberculin tests.

DECEMBER 4—Seniors determined to have a year-book. Collected over three hundred dollars in Huntingtonian Fees.

DECEMBER 7—We shall never forget this day—the attack on Pearl Harbor. Every minute we spent by the radio.

DECEMBER 11—Harriet Crayton starred in "You Can't Stop Cupid."

DECEMBER 18—Tri-Hi-Y Collected baskets for the Weaver Orphan Home.

DECEMBER 23—All Home rooms had parties and exchanged gifts. Christmas vacation began.

DECEMBER 25—Merry Christmas.

JANUARY 1—Happy New Year!

JANUARY 5—Back to school again. All of us have made resolutions. Let's see how long we keep them.

JANUARY 14—We have two new teachers. Miss Louise Lane and Miss Jesse Ferguson are here to take Mr. Lewis' and Mr. Neal Brown's places. The army has made some inroads on our faculty.

JANUARY 19—Another holiday. It was Lee's birthday.

JANUARY 21—First semester exams ended.

JANUARY 22—Everyone enjoyed the program today. The Boys of Rhythm directed by Mr. Lewis made their first public appearance.

JANUARY 24—The Hampton Freshman Team defeated our team 28-26.

JANUARY 26—Second semester began. Our enrollment soared to 688.

FEBRUARY 7—New thirty minute lunch period proposed. We don't like it.

The Huntingtonian

DAILY EVENTS

FEBRUARY 10—The proposed lunch plan was inaugurated.

FEBRUARY 11—Three visitors from the Workshop Staff visited us.

FEBRUARY 12—The three one-act plays were chosen and the cast selected.

FEBRUARY 16—Vacation for a day for us, but for the teachers registration. All men from 21 to 45 must register.

FEBRUARY 22—The Wilberforce Alumni Association headed by our Principal presented the Wilberforce Singers. A packed house welcomed them.

FEBRUARY 23—Our movie projector, turn table, and public address system arrived. The Audio-Visual Education Program will get started now.

MARCH 6—The Hardwick Mystery—Dust of the Road—Who Gets the Car Tonight, presented at Booker T. Plays were very good.

MARCH 7—Huntington was host to the District Basketball Tournament. Shirley Wright acted as the official hostess.

MARCH 13—Our boys left for the State Basketball Tournament in Petersburg.

MARCH 17—Senior Class presented a movie "It's A Date" to raise funds for the Huntingtonian.

MARCH 19—The Band Drive ended and believe it or not, the PTA reported over one thousand dollars raised.

MARCH 26—D Period Class sponsored a Junior Defense Dance. The admission was a package of cigarettes which on Saturday were distributed to the soldiers.

APRIL 11—The Band, Orchestra, and Choir were superb tonight. The occasion was their Annual Spring Concert.

APRIL 2—The Band members were measured for their new uniforms. They are to be blue with gold braid.

APRIL 7—Senior Science Class sponsored programs for Negro Health Week.

APRIL 17—Mr. Harry Savage brought his Chorus from Armstrong High here for a recital.

APRIL 17—Pictures were made for the Huntingtonian.

APRIL 20-24—Company and more company. Six evaluators from the Southern Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges were here to rate us.

APRIL 20—Mothers and daughters gathered in the cafeteria in celebration of the Tri-Hi-Y Banquet.

APRIL 28-29—It is an all-out war. The teachers issued ration cards for sugar to wholesale and retail dealers.

MAY 1-3—Fifty girls journeyed to Richmond to attend the Girls' Conference at Maggie Walker.

MAY 1—The Choir went to Richmond to give a recital at Armstrong.

MAY 4-5—Our sweet teeth will have to be extracted. Our ration stated one half pound of sugar per person per week. Poor teachers, we were out having a good time and they were struggling over the ration cards.

MAY 4—Camera Club went to Richmond to take pictures.

MAY 4-5—The seniors sponsored movie at the Jefferson.

MAY 15—The Senior Class Play. Very good.

MAY 22—The Junior and Senior Prom was one of the most enjoyable affairs of the year.

MAY 25-29—Exams!

MAY 31—Baccalaureate Sermon.

JUNE 3—Class night and of course a crowded house.

JUNE 4—The Seniors read the will, prophecy, and history at assembly. We surely enjoyed the program.

JUNE 5—Commencement. What connotations the word has. Goodbye and good-luck to you all. School is over.
